

(T. 385/86). The board however considered that an "amyloidogenic disorder" was not merely an "intermediate finding" but did indeed represent a "particular clinical picture".